Area Restrictions for Residential Waste Burning

State and local regulations prohibit burning household garbage as it releases toxic chemicals that affect human health. However, there are lower density population areas where burn barrels may be used to burn dry vegetation and/or paper and cardboard may be burned. Burn permits must be obtained from your local fire agency and burning can occur only on permissive burn days. The chart below provides information for restrictions.

RESTRICTED POPULATED AREAS		ALLOWABLE RURAL AREAS
Pile Burning	Allowed: Burning of dry natural vegetation on piles on the ground with a valid burn permit on a permissive burn day.	Pile Burning	Allowed: Burning of dry natural vegetation on piles on the ground with a valid burn permit on a permissive burn day.
